

POLITICAL BEE STINGS THREE

Kelly May Not Run Again if No Opposition Develops Against the "Ring."

Park Pittman, Dr. J. B. Brady and Chas. Adams are being considered for mayor on the organization ticket at the spring elections, politicians say. Although mayor C. Kelly has announced a number of times that he would be a candidate for reelection to his third term at the spring election, it is reported that this announcement has a sting attached.

If Tom Len, John Wyatt, W. B. Ware or any of mayor Kelly's political opponents are nominated by the opposition, he is said to have made the statement that he will make the race. If there is no opposition to the "ring" ticket, mayor Kelly is said to have announced that he will not make the race. No candidates against mayor Kelly have yet been announced, although the Democratic County and City club is holding regular meetings and perfecting its organization to take an active part in the spring campaign. The leaders of the club insist that it is not against anyone or any organization. Instead, the officers say that it is being organized to see that the best possible candidates are selected for the city and county positions.

Greatest Event in Woman's Life

All human experience looks back to motherhood as the wonder of wonders. The patience, the fortitude, the sublime faith during the period of expectancy are second only to the mother love bestowed upon the most helpless and most marvelous creation—a baby.

Women are quick to learn from other those helpful agencies that aid to comfort, and yet are perfectly apt to use and among them they recommend "Mother's Friend."

It is entirely an external application designed to lubricate the broad, fat muscles and skin that protect the abdomen. It has been in favorable use for nearly half a century and is known to mothers in almost every settled community in the United States who highly recommend it. You will find it on sale in drug stores. "Mother's Friend" is utterly harmless, contains no denaturing drugs, very beneficial, very soothing and a wonderful help.

DANIELS CHANGES NAVAL COMMANDS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels has announced a number of important changes in naval commands, in line with his policy favoring plenty of sea duty for every line officer.

Rear admiral J. L. Helm, commandant of the Charleston, S. C., navy yard, succeeds rear admiral William R. Caperton in command of the Atlantic reserve fleet at Philadelphia. Admiral Caperton has been detailed to command the new organized cruiser squadron of the Atlantic fleet.

Rear admiral J. R. Edwards, lately president of the board of inspection for shore stations, which has been abolished, will assume command of the Charleston yard.

Rear admiral Nathaniel Usher, at present commander of the Norfolk yard, goes to the New York yard, in succession to Capt. Albert Gleaves, detailed to command the battleship Utah.

For the present, commander Louis De Steiguer, commanding the Norfolk navy yard, will continue acting commander on account of the illness of rear admiral Usher.

MISSOURI EDITORS ASKED TO AVOID RAILROAD PREJUDICE

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 18.—A plea for the newspaper editors of Missouri to aid in the elimination of prejudice against railroads was made in an address by R. F. Bush, president of the Missouri Pacific railway, before the Missouri Press association today.

"There is something our newspaper editors to think about," said Mr. Bush. "The Missouri Pacific must haul a ton of coal five miles in order to make a single mile."

Mr. Bush said that state and federal legislation of railroads had increased the cost of operation and that failure to increase rates would cripple the efficiency of the roads.

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO BETTER

Travelers Report Confidence Returning; Mills and Factories Resuming.

Travelers arriving here from points in the interior of Mexico report conditions as improving slowly but surely, that smelters and mills of all sorts starting up again, that the railroads are running and the service is improving.

In the northern part of the republic there had been great damage done to the rolling stock, and especially to the passenger cars. For a month after traffic opened between Monterrey and Tampico, Monterrey and Matamoros, etc., there was nothing to travel in but one second class coach and the rest of the train was made up of freight cars, with a door cut in each end and some temporary seats made from rough lumber. The traveling was pretty rough, but no one objected, for it was so much better than nothing. However, when communication was established with Mexico city cars were sent up from there, and now all the roads operating in the north of the republic are pretty well equipped with cars. The train operated between Laredo and Mexico city carries second, first and palace cars. The only part that is poorly equipped yet is the part between Saltillo and Torreon, which still has the converted box cars and one second class coach.

Confidence is evidenced among the people to judge from the fact that they are traveling in stations very much crowded and the trains are unfit to accommodate the traffic. This big passenger traffic is caused principally by the people who have been obliged to move away from cities and towns where there was no work into the country where they had relatives, and where they went to await the advent of better times and a chance to work and make a living in the cities.

Tampico.

After the taking of Monterrey and Saltillo by Constitutionalists, the Americans began to arrive in Tampico and house cleaning was begun, and hope ran high. Plans were made and were partially carried out to clean up the town and much prospecting was done and some deals made in the oil fields, and some American came in to go to work on the deserted ranches. But the European war has about stopped everything in Tampico another time.

The work which had been about stopped on the big ranches on the slope leading to the Gulf of Mexico is beginning again, and as the soldiers have been largely withdrawn from all that territory confidence is being restored.

Low Wages No More.

With the resumption of work it is beginning to be seen that the wages will probably never be as low as before the revolution, as labor is very scarce already, and many of the men who formerly worked for wages on the ranches are now working on a share system which was inaugurated during the revolution by the revolutionary generals. Two things have caused the shortage in the labor market. The great number of people who have left all the states bordering on Texas and the number of men who entered the revolutionary and federal army in the past year and a half. Wages on the ranches have increased from 25 to 30 per cent, and is expected to go still higher.

Mills Are Starting.

Four mills at places like Saltillo, San Luis Potosi, Tlaxcala and many other points have started up, and again making and selling flour, some of the cotton mills are running at Gomez Palacio and Laredo, and others running for the account of the government and part of them for the account of the owners. The smelter at Torreon is running and No. 3 smelter at Monterrey is running but not yet on a large scale. The brewery at Monterrey is still at work, and the government and is being run for the account and under direction of the army and as the army has the preference on all railroad work, and while there are some derailments and collisions, things are not in very bad condition.

Lack of Rain.

The summer has been very dry on the east coast of northern Mexico, and there will be a shortage of corn and beans and pastures will be very poor, and the mountain areas, which have been very low, limiting the irrigation to a great extent, and it is only when the line is crossed into Texas that a country is found that has had good rains this summer, and there the amount of rains have been greater than the average.

State of Chihuahua.

The state of Chihuahua is another region that has been favored this summer with an abundant rainfall, and the travelers on the trains are delighted with the fine appearance of the country. From Saltillo north the country is beautiful, having grass to the tops of the mountains and on the level it is a high level, and practically all the rivers and creeks, usually dry, are now running full of water. Only thing needed is plenty of cattle, and only thing needed is meat, but there seems to be very little stock on the range at any point on the road. At Santa Rosalia there was seen a very plentiful supply of peaches, which were offered at 10c each, and in some places there were in many cases broken down with the weight of the fruit.

JAPANESE DEMONSTRATE FRIENDSHIP FOR U. S.

Tokio, Japan, Sept. 18.—A notable demonstration of friendship towards the United States was made Sunday night at a dinner given by the Japanese association, which was attended by Takashi Kato, chief of the Japanese minister, and George W. Guthrie, the United States ambassador.

Viscount Kentaro Kaneko, president of the association, scored those persons, who, he said, were trying to estrange the United States and Japan.

"Japan not only will not attack the Philippines," said viscount Kaneko, "but she never had any idea of disturbing the tranquility of the territorial waters of the Philippines. Our friendship will be as firm and as immovable as historic Plymouth rock."

Other speakers supported an alliance between the United States and Japan for the preservation of peace in the Pacific.

DESPERADOES SHOOT WOMAN AND THEN COMMIT SUICIDE

Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, Sept. 18.—The gang of desperadoes under the leadership of a man named Jackson, who had been in the case of the killing of Gen. Jacobus Hendrick De la Rey, the noted Boer general, came to a dramatic end Thursday.

They took refuge in a cave east of Rand, where the police surrounded and called upon them to surrender. The outlawed desperadoes refused to surrender, and were offered to surrender their weapons to Jackson's wife. The woman entered the cave and Jackson shot her. The leader and his two companions then committed suicide.
